FROSH BEAT TILTON
IN ONE SIDED GAME

Manfreda Star of Game—Six First Downs Made in First Game—Line Shows Best Form of Year

In a one-sided contest on the new Memorial Field at Tilton the N. H. Freshman football team defeated the Tilton gridsters, 15-0, last Saturday afternoon. The game went easily to the freshmen from the start, six first downs being made during the first period. As the result of several long gains during the first quarter, Manfreda, N. H. left half-back, went through the Tilton line for the first tally. Owing to the strong wind he failed to kick the goal.

Coach Fernald used several "subs" in the second period, and as Tilton's line stiffened, there were no other scores during the first half. Tilton made but few substitutions, working her best men to the limit. Starke and Hatch went well at end positions, and Somers, Stahl, and Appleby showed up in the line. Manfreda, Roy, and Silvia made a success of running the ball.

The final score was 26 to 0.

The Band Uniform Fund was given a decided impetus when Mr. C. H. GAME WITH M. I. T.

Play Defensive Game in First Half—Strong Attack in Second Period Bewilders Visitors—Pillsbury Scores Two Goals

Another victory was chalked up for the varsity soccer team last Saturday when they defeated the strong M. I. T. aggregation on Brackett's Field, to the score of 3-2. In the first half, New Hampshire played an entirely defensive game, but did not succeed in keeping their opponents scoreless. The ball was in the home territory the greater part of the period, and the one hundred fifty-odd spectators who witnessed the game were greatly pleased with the fine showing the varsity made.

During the second half, New Hampshire reversed its tactics and the M. I. T. men were bewildered by the attack launched upon them. Although a wind had sprung up, which favored the visitors, the varsity played a whirlwind game and succeeded in finishing at the big end of Dads, Dads, Dads! There were short ones and tall ones, thin ones and fat ones. Dads from the city and Dads from the country—all gathered together for a common purpose, that of better understanding the daily habit of their sons and daughters. "Grave old plodders and gay young friskers" all rubbed shoulders for a day and profited from the experience.

REGIMENTAL HOP OPENED TO ENTIRE STUDENT BODY

Reversing the practice of former years, the committee on the R. O. T. C. Hop, headed by Capt. Pettee, will allow any student not a member of the unit to attend the dance this year, provided he goes in formal dress. Members of the unit are required to attend in uniform as in the past.

The regiment has given its unanimous support to the function and the committee has already started plans for it.

The first meeting of the Freshman Commission was held Tuesday, October 12, in the Community House. The following officers were elected: President, Alice Spinney; vice-president, Louise Sprague; secretary-treasurer, Marjorie West.

GLEE CLUBS MAY PUT ON
PARKER'S HORA NOVISSIMA

Plans are under way for the production of Parker's oratorio Hora Novissima, by the Glee Club, sometime in the spring. Copies, it is hoped, will be loaned by the Worcester Festival Association.

The clubs are run this year under a monitorial or checking system similar to the one in use in the Harvard Glee Club. This has done away with much of the confusion caused by the large attendance at the rehearsals.

MUSIC AT INFORMAL
PLEASES BIG CROWD

Selected Team from Band Plays at Dance Given to Benefit Band Uniform Fund—Expect Larger Crowd This Week

The first Informal held for the benefit of the Band Uniform Fund in the Men's Gymnasium on Saturday, October 17, Dad's Day, was a huge success from the standpoint of the dancers, but was only a mediocre affair from a financial angle. About 80 couples attended the party and a total of $40 was added to the Uniform Fund. The committee expected at least 100 couples at the dance because of the enthusiastic approval of the plans to raise money given by the entire student body at a recent Convocation.

The music at the dance was furnished by an eight-piece selected team from the Band, consisting of "Eddie" Bruce at the piano; Bryant, trombone; Engel and Ramsay, trumpets; Perkins, Shedd, and Towne, saxophones; Chandler, drums. These men furnished their services gratis, and the consensus of opinion was that the music excelled any heard at informals this year. The Uniform Fund Committee plans to hold a series of these dances, one each Saturday night for the remainder of the term.

The chaperones for the dance were: Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Allen; Captain and Mrs. C. S. Pettee; Mr. and Mrs. Heber F. DePew; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Langley.

FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY
TEAM DEFEATS PINKERTON

New Hampshire's Freshman harriers won their second successive victory when they defeated the Pinkerton Academy aggregation by a 22-33 score over the Derry course last Saturday. Low of Pinkerton won the race in the excellent time of 15 min. flat for the three miles, with Cahalan, Cleveland, Whitney, and Churchill, respectively, New Hampshire speedsters, in hot pursuit. Doharty and Moore of the prep-school finished next while Allsworth concluded the scoring for the Freshmen.

The contest was notable both for the winner's time and the close determined struggle put up by the runners considering the slowness of the track owing to the rain of the morning.

WORK GOING FORWARD
ON MAIN STREET SIDE WALK

With the final establishment of a street level on Main street between Ballard street and the railroad station, the space from Congreve to the Gymnasium is being roughed in with cinders in preparation for a cement side walk next spring. Eventually the cement side walk will extend on both sides of Main street from the railroad station to Ballard street, where it will connect with the side walk which runs to the Dover Road.

SENIORS STAGE RALLY IN CROWDED THEATRE

"Annie, the Lighthouse Keeper's Wife," Feature of Program—Speeches by DePew and Perley

One of the most successful football rallies in the history of the University was held in the Franklin theatre last Friday evening under the direction of the Senior class. By 7.15 the seats were filled and peanut battles were in progress all over the hall. E. Y. Blewett, master of ceremonies, announced the first number of the program, that of a play entitled, "Annie, the Lighthouse Keeper's Wife," under the supervision of C. Gray, who was ably assisted in its production by the following: W. O'Brien, former Keith artist; E. Henderson, E. Gustafson, W. Carron, W. Young, and J. Littlefield. Cheering led by the Varsity leaders, Tetzlaff, Michelson, and Gustafson followed the play. Then came an act by O'Brien and Gray, after which an orchestra composed of T. Wallace, H. Hawkins, T. Pitts, and G. Wheeler played several popular pieces. Mr. Heber DePew and Mr. George Perley of the faculty spoke briefly to the students after which there was more cheering, the rally closing with the singing of Alma Mater. The rally fulfilled its purpose, that of arousing the enthusiasm of the student body and much credit is due the following committees: H. Whitcomb, chairman of Committees; class advertising, R. Taylor, chairman, W. Morrill, J. Bloomfield, and P. Andrews; theatre decorations, J. Henderson; special entertainment, C. Gray and L. Jensen; theater arrangements, C. Brown; Band, A. Bogul; special music, F. MacDonald; faculty letters, F. Fudge; faculty notices, E. Henderson; dormitory publicity, M. Arthur, H. Brady, and D. Clarkson; sorority letters, V. Landerman.

ADMIT NEW FRATERNITIES TO SPHINX ORGANIZATION

At a '27 Sphinx meeting held in the Zoo Lecture Room Monday evening, it was voted to admit Phi Delta Upsilon, Alpha Gamma Rho, Theta Kappa Phi, and Phi Alpha fraternities as members of the Sphinx. To date these fraternities have not been represented in the Sphinx. Two members of the class of 1928 will be selected from each fraternity.

Following the meeting of the '27 Sphinx, the '28 Sphinx elected temporary officers. Gomer Dillon, Theta Chi, was elected president; Arlin Warren, Delta Pi Epsilon, vice president; and John Whittemore, Kappa Sigma, secretary. The election of permanent officers will be held later this week. The results of the elections will be kept secret until the initiation banquet. This banquet will be held at Colony Cove on Nov. 1. Dearington, Bancroft, and Simpson are the committee of the '27 Sphinx for the initiation. All past and present Sphinx members are invited to attend the banquet.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM TO MEET M. I. T. SATURDAY

The first home Cross Country meet will be held next Saturday over the local course between New Hampshire and the M. I. T. teams.

The M. I. T. harriers are reputed to be strong this season and are out to avenge the defeat suffered at the hands of New Hampshire last year.

Capt. Peaslee and his runners are equally determined to make it two successive wins and to start the home season in top form.

SPECIAL STUDY CLASSES
ARRANGED BY DEAN CASE

Fifty-six freshmen and first term sophomores in the Technology college began a schedule of nightly supervised study last Monday night under the direction of upper class advisors.

These men are required to report at DeMeritt Hall every night except Saturday and Sunday for two hours of study from seven until nine, because of grades below passing in one or more courses.

Of the 56 men required to report, 24 are first term sophomores in physics and mathematics. The rest are freshmen. In line with the new plan outlined at the special convocation for Tech men last week by Dean Case, Prof. James will schedule extra classes in chemistry and Prof. Howes will give a physics demonstration lecture on Saturday mornings.

According to Dean Case, required supervised study by freshmen and first term sophomores who are deficient will tend to produce better work. Nothing like this new "Senate" has ever been tried here before.

ORGANIZED FARMER MAKES DEBUT IN AMERICAN NOVEL

By Henry Bailey Stevens

After breaking so forcefully into the economic field through cooperative farming associations and into the political field through the "farm bloc," it was inevitable that the organized farmer should enter the American novel. In "East of Eden" (Harper & Bros.) Lynn Montross has told a thrilling story of an Illinois farmer and his family in the year 1921. He has told it with deft, sure touches; and if he had not succumbed to the temptation to supply plot interest that at times robs the story of its convincing reality, I think he would have produced a noteworthy piece of literature.

Read the following description of a Farm Bureau picnic:

"In the center of the grove hundreds of people stood in little groups about the wooden pavilion where refreshments were sold. Here the Derrings separated, as other families were separating, the men going their way and the women seating themselves on the grass after much arrangement of skirts.

"Everybody smiled hopefully—and waited. A small boy galluped around in circles, holding to his lips a red, white and blue horn which made frightful squawks. A little girl tried to drink a bottle of red pop and spilled the foaming liquid over the front of her dress amid the scolding of her mother. A baby toddled away and was captured by four or five women. Another baby cried patiently and monotonously. Standing alone at one side, old John Billerbeck bearded and patriarchal, ate an ice-cream cone with a pocket knife. Four men faced each other in a silent group and pulled solemnly at cigars. The hum of many voices rose and fell insistently and overhead the gentle cottonwoods whispered unheard."

Fred Derring, the silent hard-working farmer who throws himself into the organization of a grain growers' association; Rothermel, the keen, sarcastic organizer; Nicholson, the lobbyist of the opposition; Mel Kubik, the county agent; Satterly, the banker; Milt Bowen, the young lover; and Lou and Ida, Derring's daughters; and many other characters are convincingly portrayed. The author knows his people thoroughly and makes them live. He paints them against a background of soil and corn and shifting seasons that is always true and sometimes beautiful. He analyses the economic strife which forms the theme of his story without partisan prejudice. I do think, however, that he piles up so many calamities upon Fred Derring as to make the story seem artificial. It is bad enough for the farmers' cooperative to have been wrecked; this is by no means the result of all, or even most, cooperatives. But to have had the favorite daughter seduced, even though the tangled emotions are most skilfully drawn; to have had a sudden jealous misjudgment cause the debts to pile up to the breaking point; to have had the neighbors and surrounding farmers entirely desert Derring; and finally to end with the murder of the enemy and the suicide of Derring is too much. The story is so well told that one does not mind the melodrama of it; but it cannot quite escape the artificiality which is an almost inevitable accompaniment of melodrama.

To tell the story of Job alone should be a sufficient task; to tell of both Job and Cain in the same breath is an impossible one.

FROM OUR MAIL BAG

To the Editor of the New Hampshire:

At the present time, the student body, student activities and the student societies are being controlled by the faculty to such an extent that any student movement is entirely controlled and dominated by the faculty.

Every society has a faculty advisor who acts as a figurehead until some progressive change is suggested and then the power of the advisor is manifested. The advisor has absolute power. In one society the treasurer is deemed honest and competent in paying a bill of $9.99 but the payment of a bill of $10.00 calls for minute scrutiny and careful investigation before the bill may be paid. Ridiculous, isn't it?

Every committee must have a quota of faculty members, often exceeding the number of student members. When a committee for the revision of the point system is appointed, a committee dealing with students and for students exclusively, why is it necessary to have as many faculty members as student members? The faculty members will of course guide the younger members to the true light—a mailed fist in a fur lined glove.

The honorary scholastic society is controlled by faculty members. For the last three years certain men have had an average of over 85 and have not been taken in while others have made it with an average of 82. It is not difficult to find the reason.

Last year a literary magazine was attempted by the English Department. There is no question that the failure of this magazine was due entirely to faculty interference.

The question is, "Are we, as University men and women, capable of managing the affairs of our own societies and groups without faculty interference?" I believe that we are and should be allowed to do so.

SURPRISE RESULTS IN HANDICAP MEET

Toolin Smashes College Record For 120 Yard Hurdles—Van Allen Leads Atkins in Dash

Several surprises turned up in the annual Fall Handicap Meet, held on Memorial Field, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons. The College record for the 120 yd. hurdles was smashed when Toolin ran the event in 16 2-5 seconds, and Van Allen startled the field by leading Atkins in the 100 yd. dash. His time was 10 2-5 seconds. Results of the events already run are as follows:

100 yd. dash: Van Allen, Atkins. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

Mile run: Cahalan, Churchill, Whitney. Time, 5 min. 8 3-5 sec.

Hurdles: Toolin, first. Time, 16 2-5 sec.

High jump: J. Smith, Davis and Joslin (tie for second place) E. Smith. Height, 5 ft. 2 in.

Shot put: Hartwell, Atkins, Morse. Distance, 36 ft. 10 in.

FIRST GAME GOES TO DELTA PI TEAM

Theta Chi Defeats Lambda Chi Alpha—Theta Upsilon Omega Crushes Theta Kappa Phi—Kappa Sigma Swamps Phi Delta Upsilon

The Intra-Mural basketball league opened with a bang last Thursday afternoon when the Delta Pi quintet took the Alpha Gamma Rho team into camp by the close score of 22 to 21. The game was fast and close throughout, the score at the end of the first half being 12 to 10 in favor of the winners. Fouls were called frequently and Fudge and Baldwin were forced to leave the game because of four personals. Smalley and Brown were the outstanding stars for their respective teams.

The National League opening came on Friday, the day after the first game of the American League. The Theta Kappa Phi team bowed to the Theta Upsilon Omega's. Brydon for Theta U and White for Theta Kappa were the stars of this game. Brydon scored 8 of his team's 17 points. The score was 17 to 9.

The second game of the American League proved to be just as close and hard fought as the first game had been on the day before. Theta Chi defeated the Lambda Chi Alpha team by two points, the score being 16 to 14. At the end of the first half the two teams were tied at 12 points each. Gunn scored five miracle baskets from the middle of the floor for his team but the Theta Chi defense was too rigid and the Madbury Road boys were returned the victors.

Kappa Sigma found little difficulty in defeating the Phi Delta Upsilon basketball team Monday afternoon at the gymnasium. The experienced Kappa five were too fast for the new fraternity boys. The losers put up a game fight, however, which made the game well worth attending for the spectators. Steve Slayton was the outstanding star of the contest.

The Alpha Tau Omega and Phi Mu Delta fives clashed in one of the most exciting games of the leagues to date on Tuesday afternoon. Both teams played hard and fouls were called frequently by the referee. The first half ended with the defeated team leading by the score of 7 to 5. In the second half the game was just as close for more than a period when Gustafson dropped in three successive baskets giving his team the lead by six points. The victors kept the lead from then until the final whistle blew for the end of the game. Schurman was high scorer with Snow, center for the defeated, a close second. The floor work of Jackson, Lizio, and Evans was highly commendable.

Following the A. T. O. vs. Phi Mu Delta game, the Theta Kappa Phi team met the fast Tri Gamma five. This was the second game of the season for the Theta club and the team showed a decided improvement since their first game. However, the Tri Gamma quintet was too strong for their opponents and at the end of the first half had a lead of 9 to 5. Tri Gamma won the game by 21 to 9. Bruce and Wiggan starred for the victors while Whyte's efforts were noticeable for the losers.

FASHION SHOW HAS ALL LATEST MODES

Simplicity in Hats—Solid Colors in Dresses Now Stylish—Straight Lines Soon to Go Out—Flares in Style

Skirts are as short as ever, which is as short as we dare wear them! This was the verdict given by Mrs. Chamberlain of Filene's, in her talk on "Style Tendencies" which preceded the models in the Fashion Show held by the Business Girls' Organization in Thompson Hall Monday, October 19.

We are emerging from the period of straight line dresses into one of flares, circular skirts, and kick pleats, according to Mrs. Chamberlain. The present tendency is toward an almost imperceptible cure with fullness at the bottom. This fullness appears in the front, at the back, or at the sides.

Sports Clothes Popular

The sports costume seems to dominate all day costumes. This means especially the vogue of the two-piece dress, which is found in practically every material and for every sort of wear except evening. Simplicity is the keynote of everything. Decoration on any type of dress is confined to one spot.

Accessories are becoming increasingly important to complete the costume. Hat, stockings, purse, and gloves must match each other and harmonize with the dress. Scarfs are not worn this year, except with the evening dress. Beads must be chosen with great care in reference to the style of the costume. Light stockings are still being worn, but in a greater variety of shades.

Hats are very simple, whether large or small. Small hats of felt or velour are smart with almost any costume, and large plain hats are also very good. Simplicity is the keynote here as in dress.

Colors in Demand
Blue is the most popular color at present, though it is likely that green will crowd it out before spring. Red, in all shades, is very good, especially for winter dresses. "Black Prince," which is a deep purplish red, and "Grackle Head blue" are two of the latest colors. Purple is still "in," but the shade must be chosen with care.

After Mrs. Chamberlain's talk seventeen models were shown to illustrate her points. These were worn by Marian Williams, Affilia Baldi, Esther Robeck, Christina Collins, and Mrs. Leighton.

Dressy Models Shown
The first model was an ensemble of gray balbriggan, suitable either for sports or town wear. It had long sleeves and a high neck, as do all of this season's clothes. The next was a sports coat of a reddish pink tweed worn over a balbriggan of the same shade, especially suitable for college wear. A slightly more dressy model came next in the form of a blue velvet dress which also followed the two-piece mode. A young girl's dress of brown velvet with a bolero effect, was then shown, followed by a red oil silk raincoat and hat. The next model was a gray tweed coat with a fur collar worn over a pale gray jersey one-piece dress, and the next a knitted sports costume with the popular turtle neck such as is being worn in Europe. A dress for an older woman was next shown. This was of the new deep blue with a coat of the same color. Even the costumes for older women have that flare of the youthful ones. The last models were coats and evening dresses which also followed the demand for simplicity.

BEBE DANIELS SCORES HIT IN MANICURE GIRL

"The Manicure Girl" which comes to the Franklin Theatre is an original screen story by Frederic and Fannie Hatton, coauthors of the stage hit, "Upstairs and Down." Bebe Daniels stars opposite Edmund Burns. Others in the cast are Hale Hamilton, Dorothy Cumming, Charlotte Walker, Ann Brody, Marie Shotwell and Mary Foy.

The story is a comedy-drama of a manicure girl whose longing for the finer things which money can buy almost breaks up her romance. The new gyroscopic camera was used in filming the picture, giving continuous action without a break.

"Everything's jake"
when you
smoke P. A.

TROUBLE'S a bubble, just as the song says. And you can stick it with the stem of your old jimmy-pipe, filled to the brim with good old Prince Albert. A remedy? It's a specific! Ask any jimmy-piper who ever butted into trouble.

Cool as the zone-of-kelvination you read about in the refrigerator ads. Sweet as the kiss of spring on a winter-weary brow. Fragrant as locust blossoms. Soothing as a cradle-song. And—P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat. The Prince Albert process fixes that!

Get on the sunny side of life with a jimmy-pipe and P. A. Tie a tidy red tin to trouble. Smoke the one tobacco that's got everything you ever wished for—Prince Albert. Quicker you get going, the sooner your worries will be over. Men who thought they never could smoke a pipe are now P. A. fans. You'll be a cheerleader too!

PRINCE ALBERT
—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Look at the U. S. revenue stamp—there are TWO full ounces in every tin.

while Abbiatti and Captain O'Connor were the backfield stars of the day. Gifford and Walker played well for Rhode Island.

Score in Three Minutes

Three minutes after Nicora had received the kickoff "Okey" O'Connor went over the line for the first touchdown of the season on Memorial Field. A couple of first downs by Nicora and O'Connor together with a long run of thirty yards by the husky Abbiatti brought the ball within a scoring distance and O'Connor scored on an off tackle play. He failed to kick the goal however. Rhode Island kicked again to "Nick" who ran the ball back to the thirty yard line. Several line bucks, a penalty by Rhode Island, and Captain O'Connor punted from the New Hampshire 38 yard line to Rhode Island's four yard line. The kick was returned and quarterback Davis lost five yards attempting to run the ends. Another exchange of kicks, an eight yard gain by Abbiatti, and two penalties, one of five yards for Rhode Island and the other of fifteen yards for New Hampshire, gave New Hampshire the ball on the 43 yard line at the end of the first quarter.

Davis Applauded

At the beginning of the second quarter New Hampshire had first down and 25 yards to go. O'Connor gained 10 yards around the right end and he then kicked to the 15-yd. line. A bad pass from center, an off side penalty of five yards and Rhode Island kicked to O'Connor who ran the ball back to the 30 yard line. Here "Windy" Davis came in for his first bit of applause. He gathered in a short forward pass by O'Connor and ran thirty yards for a touchdown only to be forced offside at the one yard line. "Eddie" O'Connor carried the ball over the white line again for another touchdown but missed his try for the point after touchdown.

O'Connor Scores Again

The third New Hampshire score was made after an exchange of kicks which ended with New Hampshire in possession of the ball on her opponent's 12 yard marker. Draghetti, kicking for Rhode Island, had a strong wind to combat and the ball sailed straight up into the air to land offside at the said line. A few line bucks and "Eddie" went over the line for his third touchdown.

Abbiatti Scores

For a period or more the playing was pretty much on a par. The Rhode Island team seemed to be instilled with a new lease of pep and fight and the game became more interesting as the time for the final whistle drew near. The ball see sawed back and forth in the air as each team was forced to punt out of danger. During these numerous exchanges of kicks, Capt. O'Connor displayed his ability to place the long spiral kicks that he got off. Time after time the ball was downed within a few feet of the Rhode Island goal, forcing the kicker to punt from behind his goal line. This advantage was plainly New Hampshire's throughout the game and much ground was gained due to the good headwork of Davis and O'Connor in calling for kicks when the varsity team was in position to kick with the strong wind that was blowing. The ball was carried from the middle of the field by Nicora and Abbiatti to within striking distance of the white chalk line that the New Hampshire captain had crossed three times before. A long run by Abbiatti gave

New Hampshire another six points and O'Connor added another point by kicking the goal.

Although the coach was not entirely pleased with the showing that the team made in this game it is the opinion of the spectators that New Hampshire has a good team and should go through the schedule without being beaten. After the game several Rhode Island players expressed the opinion that New Hampshire will easily defeat Brown University next month unless the Granite Staters go "sour." But there is little fear that the New Hampshire team will not be in condition to give Brown a good game as Coach Cowell is noted for his ability to bring a team through the season within many injuries and bruises.

Davis Improves

Davis at quarterback showed a remarkable improvement over his playing in the opening game of the season. In fact "Windy" played the best game of his career. Although he wasn't able to gain much ground around the ends, his long run was a thriller and his headwork was evident. Several times during the game it seemed as though the Rhode Island tackles had outguessed the quarter but on one occasion "Windy" called for a play that gained a lot of ground.

"Ted" Foster at center played his usual dependable game. His tackling was sure and hard and he showed his football ability to perfection. Stearns and Langdell showed up well in this game also. Langdell has developed into one of the best fighting guards that New Hampshire has had for years. The shifting of Page to guard seemed to be a good move. Page, a veteran of the team two years ago, is playing a good game this year and deserves a position on the first team. The absence of Hoagland in the lineup is noticeable. The team has speeded up considerably since the big boy has been replaced and no doubt the lineup will be the same next Saturday when New Hampshire stacks up against the strong Springfield College team.

Shortly after the opening of the third quarter, Manfreda again scored a touchdown, and kicked the goal. The quarter saw the ball in Tilton's territory most of the time. The line was almost impregnable during the whole period.

In the last period, N. H. scored two points on a safety, when the Tilton backfield failed to function in the end zone. Soon after this Capt. Roy broke away for a forty-five yard run, the longest in the game. Time was called, however, before the Frosh could tally. Score: N. H. Frosh, 15; Tilton, 0.

Coach Fernald took twenty-five men to Tilton, and every one of them had his chance to get into the game. Both Sylvia and Faust had to bark signals, as Crins, the Frosh regular, was unable to make the trip because of an injured hand. All the substitute line-men worked well, and kept the Tilton offense tied down tight. On the offense they had good holes made for the backs, and allowed few tackles behind the line. A total of twelve first downs was made by the freshman team.

"You'll never make an electrical engineer"

Carl Taylor

SO a blond young man named Taylor, just graduating in electrical engineering at the University of North Carolina, was advised by a conscientious professor. The professor's conviction was based on quiz papers and was amply justified. But the young man was not discouraged; he had other hopes, he said. Today—ten years later—he occupies a peculiarly important position with the Westinghouse Company.

Before Carl Taylor had completed his apprenticeship with Westinghouse he began to sell apparatus to utility-customers. He had previously sold clothing in college. He had selected an electrical engineering course because he believed the industry promising for men of selling interests.

His first actual order—the electrification of a scrap yard—was awarded to him at a higher price than that asked by any other bidder because he had "lived with" the job and given all the service this implies.

Some months later the Company was surprised at a request from him for an indefinite leave of absence. He wanted to take a job with a manufacturer of steel mill machinery, in order better to understand the problems of such users of electrical equipment. His leave lasted two years. He returned from the superintendency of a well-known plant—returned at a lower salary than the superintendency had paid him. But within three years he was

The question is asked: Where do young men get when they enter a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talents? Or are they forced into narrow grooves?

This series of advertisements throws light on these questions. Each advertisement takes up the record of a college man who came to Westinghouse within the last ten years, immediately after graduation.

manager of the industrial division of the Pittsburgh Sales Office—the largest division of the Westinghouse Company in the entire country. Today he has a sales organization of sixty-five men.

To get the customer's point of view—to go the limit to anticipate his wants and keep him satisfied—this is the Westinghouse sales policy. It is the policy of all enlightened industrial organizations. Men who can exemplify it in their personal careers need have no question about their futures.

Westinghouse

"It's a great aid to scholastic efficiency"

ONE professor makes this remark, and countless others are saying the same thing. They know the value of a typewriter as a time-saver, as a means of compiling data, and as a help in the expression of thought. Then too, it frees the "prof" from that tedious task of deciphering longhand, and keeps him in perfect "reading humor." And perfect "reading humor" tends to mean better marks.

CHANCE TO SWELL UNIFORM FUND

Farnham store in the Hardy Block during all of next week by a student or a faculty member of the University will be given outright to the Uniform Fund Committee to be applied directly toward the purchase price of the handsome band uniforms which will be worn for the first time at the Homecoming Day football game.

New Stock in

There are no strings on Mr. Farnham's offer. No overhead, no profit, nothing will be deducted from the total. Ten cents out of every dollar taken in will be given outright by the Company. No merchandise is expected, in fact, Mr. McIntire states that several lots of new selected collegiate clothes will be in stock for next week's trade. If a student has planned to make purchases of clothing or shoes later, he can help to swell the Uniform Fund by buying them next week, during the term of the offer.

Offer Appreciated

The kindly offer of the Lothrop-Farnham Company is certainly appreciated by the Fund Committee, Captain Pettee, chairman of the drive, declared last night. Several of the local merchants promised to help the Committee when the idea was first broached, and the action of this store should serve to awaken local interest in the project among the business men. It is expected that several more offers to help will be received before next week.

A large thermometer will be placed in the window of the store and the daily total which the fund is to receive will be graphically shown. As Captain Pettee declared to The New Hampshire reporter, "Here is another opportunity for the student body of the University to back up the action taken in Convocation when every student voted to support the efforts of the Committee in any way possible."

ALL DEGREES OF DADS FLOCK IN FOR DAY'S STAY

By six o'clock Saturday morning the Dads began to drift into Durham, some by machine, others by train and by nine o'clock a large number were congregated in the vicinity of the Faculty Club waiting to register. Already they had begun to get acquainted and Dad was greeting Dad informally. In the Faculty Club they obtained their tickets for dinner and the football game, and also, a card bearing their name and address, which they pinned to the lapels of their coats. For the Dads who had travelled some distance a buffet lunch was served under the direction of the Home Economics Department.

Visit Classes

As soon as they were registered, the Dads were divided, according to their interests, into groups headed by Faculty members, and a tour of the colleges began. Into every nook and corner the Dads peered, and sympathizingly gazed into the classrooms where instructor and students "carried on" superbly despite the batteries of eyes in the doorways. From building to building they passed, momentarily halted as a father unexpectedly met his son or when a daughter sighted her Dad and rushed to greet him.

Reception in Gym

The inspection over, all Dads met in the men's gymnasium at 11 o'clock and were welcomed by their sons and daughters and members of the faculty.

Group Picture

When the time came to assemble in the Memorial Field bleachers for a picture of all the Dads, it was announced that 464 had registered—a number surpassing all hopes and predictions of Pres. Hetzel. For the first time, too, since the Dads had arrived the sun peeped through the clouds and was reflected in the trackless wastes of the bald-headed men and the ruddy faces of the out-door workers.

Commons Filled

The Commons dining room was completely filled after the visitors had been seated and everyone found a place though the question entered all minds, "Where are they going to seat the next Dad?"

President's Speech

President Hetzel addressed the gathering and said in part: "I have invited you here today that you may to some extent see and sense what is going forward in this institution. . . There is no reason to defend or champion youth. I don't believe that the natural endowment of the youth of today is any less than that of the youth of yesterday and after meeting the fathers of these youths I can easily see where they have obtained the fine morale, the splendid moral sense, and sound physique with which they are possessed. I, too, am a Dad, being the father of five children who impress upon me intensely the duties and obligations of fatherhood. When I get up in the morning I feel the responsibility of these five children and once I step out of my home to go to my office, I feel the responsibility of fathering 1,300 children. Now, it is this responsibility that I wish to share with you. We all have a common interest—that of the advancement of these youths who are so close and dear to us. . . We must work together if we are to turn out good citizens, well-equipped to take up the burdens of State and citizenship."

Dads at Football Game

After dinner the Dads were the guests of the President at the football game between Rhode Island State college and New Hampshire. A section had been reserved for them and they aided materially in the cheering. The fraternities acted as hosts to many who remained in Durham over-night while those who left the campus following the game took with them their sons and daughters.

Because of the success of the first Dads' Day which was greater than the officials expected, it is thought it will become an annual affair.

STAR JAZZ ARTISTS TO PLAY AT NEXT INFORMAL

"Jap" Starrett, "Hubie" Hawkins and Gordon Wheeler with their trick saxaphones, Ira Stockwell at the piano, together with "Bunny" Bryant's eight piece selected orchestra from the University Band will furnish the music for the Informal to be held in the Men's Gymnasium on Saturday night, October 24, the second dance to be conducted by the Band Uniform Fund Committee. The musicians are giving their services, and the entire receipts from the affair will be used to buy the classy new uniforms which the Band will wear for the first time on Homecoming Day.

The dance will begin at seven thirty and end at eleven. Admission will be 25 cents a person. The general approval given to the music last week by the dancers, leads the Committee to expect a record crowd on Saturday night when the biggest and best orchestra ever to play for an informal will perform. Mr. Starrett has been appointed leader of the team, and those who have heard the musicians rehearsing under "Japs" direction have lost no time in making arrangements with a co-ed playmate to "be there when the band starts playing" on Saturday.
